CITY TRUSTEES

Information Wanted from Water Companies—Concrete Work on City Hall Satisfactory

All members present but Mr. Lane who came in at 8 o'clock. Minutes read and reports heard.

Mr. Coker moved that the board proceed to advertise for two cells to be placed in the fire building for jail purposes: same was adopted.

Manager of light department reported hearing from Mr. L. C. Brand who would take up the matter of transfer of his interest in the West Glendale portion of his lighting plant in a few days. Mr. Farrar appeared before the board presenting a proposition for ornamental street lighting system. The system presented consists of concrete pillars instead of iron posts as proposed in the plan by the manager of the light department. Mr. Farrar claimed that the cost would be considerably less than the iron and more ornamental. As the proceedings already under way contemplated iron posts, the trustees did not seem to consider it necessary to make any change which would require starting new proceedings, but after some discussion the matter was referred to committee of whole. The marshal was instructed to secure two new incinerators for use on Brand boulevard. The city attorney presented a notice to be presented to the water companies requesting information as to their business.

The committee consisting of city engineer, building inspector and architect, appointed by the committee of the whole (trustees) to investigate the concrete work in the new city hall building, made a report to the effect that they had examined and tested the work and found it entirely satisfactory. Report received and filed. Report of tax collector showed the sum of $1041.38 collected during the week and a total collection of $6003.71 to date.

Bids for motor cycle were opened and read, the bids averaging from $215 for a 4 h.p. machine to $355 fully equipped.

An ordinance providing for the widening of that portion of Brand boulevard from the south line of Sixth street to the south line of Grider and Hamilton tract, was read first and second times. A resolution abandoning an alley between Second and Third street in Block 8, was adopted.

The chairman called the attention of the board to the fact that the improvement of Central avenue north of Sixth street by the county authorities, has fallen through and it is therefore necessary that the street be improved by the usual procedure as soon as possible. On motion the street engineer was directed to proceed to establish the grade preparatory to improvement of the street.

Mr. Coker called attention to the unsatisfactory condition of the railroad track on the south side of the street on Third street, where the rail stands up several inches above the street. On motion of Mr. Coker the street superintendent was instructed to take steps looking toward putting the street in proper condition, with reference to the rails of the railroad track. A resolution of intention to close up and abandon a certain alley in Block 7, town of Glendale, was adopted.

A resolution of intention to improve Sinclair avenue, was read and adopted. A motion for the improvement of a small portion of Sixth street was adopted. The city engineer brought up the matter of putting in culverts on Brand boulevard at Sixth street and at Ninth street; he was of the opinion that the railroad people would bear their proportion of the expense. On motion of Mr. Coker it was directed that a culvert be put in at Sixth street.

A THANKSGIVING "THIRD MONDAY."

On Monday afternoon the Country Club parlors were the scene of one of the most charmingly planned assemblies ever enjoyed by the Maids and Matrons. Mrs. R. E. Chase, hostess of the afternoon, successfully carried out a delightful scheme of decoration and amusement for the members and guests of the organization. The genuine Thanksgiving spirit and character pervaded the atmosphere. The receiving hall was dainty in its decorations of yellow chrysanthemums, while the parlors were lovely in their adornment of armfuls of dark red blossoms. Mrs. John G. Hunchberger won the applause of one and all, with readings from James Whitcomb Riley, Mrs. Helen Robinson of Los Angeles rendered delightful piano solos, and Miss Mamie Adamson of Pasadena sang several solos in her characteristic, lusciously sweet manner.

Part of the afternoon was devoted to Five Hundred, Mrs. J. Green and Mrs. W. E. Evans winning the head prize and consolation prize, respectively; both prizes being perfectly typical of the general character of the day. Refreshments appropriate to the Thanksgiving season were served buffet style table decorations being fruits and vegetables. Miss Dorothy Brown, Miss Shirley Chase and Miss Marjorie Temple, as quaint little Puritans, acted as very capable, if diminutive assistant hostesses.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
Regular meeting at 1 o'clock, O. F. hall tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock. Let every member be present.

GLENDALE'S BOND ISSUES

Some Mis-statements Corrected—Newly Annexed Territory Bears None of Old Debt—City Nowhere Near Its Bonding Limit

It is such an easy matter to ascertain what is the bonded indebtedness of the municipality of Glendale, that there is no shadow of excuse for any untrue statements in regard to the matter, and yet some of a very wild character are in circulation. A correspondent of the Tropic SENTINEL expresses the opinion that the people of Glendale are anxious for the annexation of Tropic to this city, because "they are bonded to the limit and wish more assessable property upon which to base additional bond issues," or words to that effect. The following facts may be easily verified by the briefest possible interview with the city clerk, or by looking over his records which are open to all inquirers:

Fire Bonds	$ 4,500
Electric Light Bonds	51,000
City Hall Bonds (authorized, not yet sold)	18,000
Total	$73,500

There has been paid $500 on Electric Light Bonds since July 1st. During the past year the sum of $18,000 was added to the bonded indebtedness and payments made amounting to $2625, making a net increase of $15,375.

The assessed valuation of the City of Glendale (as originally incorporated, excluding recent addition) for the present year is $2,016,640. Article 2371, Sec. 4, General Laws, governs the limitations of bonded indebtedness as follows:

"No city, town or municipality shall incur an indebtedness for public improvements which shall in aggregate exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed valuation of all the real and personal property of such city, town or municipality." It will readily be seen, therefore, that the City of Glendale has the power at the present time, without taxing the recently annexed territory, to incur an indebtedness aggregating $302,496.

LIABILITY OF ANNEXED TERRITORY.

Statements are also being circulated as to the liability of newly annexed territory for existing bond issues, which are at variance with the facts. Section 4 of Act 2383, General Laws, governs this as follows:

"That no property in either of the municipal corporations consolidated under the provisions of this act shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of any kind of the other such municipality or corporation contracted or incurred to or existing at the time of such consolidation. The legislative body of any consolidated municipality under the provisions of this act shall provide for the payment of the indebtedness or liability of each of the municipal corporations consolidated therein and shall levy and collect the necessary taxes therefor and for that purpose and for all other purposes such consolidated municipal corporation and its officers shall be deemed the successor of such municipal corporations so consolidated and their respective officers."

In the case of the late election for the addition of territory to the city of Los Angeles, the initial petition for annexation contained a stipulation to the effect that the annexed territory would assume its proportion of the bonded indebtedness of the city if annexed. For this reason it became practically an election on the part of the outside territory analogous to a proposition to issue bonds and therefore a two-thirds vote was required to carry it. In the case of the annexation of West Glendale to Glendale and in the present case in which the consolidation of Glendale and Tropic is proposed, there is no such offer to assume indebtedness and in consequence a mere majority vote on the proposition will carry it.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Verdugo Road and Sixth Street.

Both of these thoroughfares will probably be improved now as soon as the usual advertising and other routine can be gone through with, usually taking about three months before the contracts can be let. Sixth Street, being a connecting link in the county's highway system from the mountains to the sea, will be a thoroughfare second to none in the city when completed, putting this section in direct and quick touch with Pasadena and beyond. At a meeting of the property owners held the other evening on a call by City Engineer Lynch, there was unanimity of opinion that it was unexpected as it was gratifying to that official. The specifications proposed provide for a roadway thirty-six feet wide, consisting of five inches of crushed rock in the center, tapering to two and a half inches. The estimated expense per running foot on each side of the street is from $1.40 to $1.50. A five-foot sidewalk will be put in west of Adams Street.

On Verdugo Road the improvements will be under the same specifications, but the street being six feet wider than Sixth Street, the cost is estimated at $1.72 per foot.

SMALL HOME BURNED.

At 3:30 Monday afternoon fire was discovered in the shed at the rear of the home of W. R. Dickerson, on Jackson street, between Fifth and Sixth. Before the blaze could be extinguished it had damaged the home to such an extent as to cause an almost complete loss. The Glendale fire department responded promptly to the call and did effective work. Much credit should be given Marshal Miller, Officer Everett and the fire boys who assisted them.

The home is owned by Mrs. Grace L. Brown of Alameda, formerly a resident of this city. Mr. Dickerson is a driver for the Glendale bakery and with his family has resided in Glendale for the past six months. Most of the furniture of the home was saved by neighbors.

Mr. A. M. French is out again after being confined to his home for a fortnight with illness.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.
A union Thanksgiving service of the churches in our city will be held in the Presbyterian church, Fourth street, corner of Cedar, Wednesday evening, November 29th, at 7:30. The Rev. J. W. Utter, pastor of the Christian church, will preach the annual Thanksgiving sermon. An offering will be taken for the poor. All the people of our city are cordially invited.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.
Preparations are being made by our Sunday school under C. C. Arrow, to give a Christmas concert the Sunday evening before Christmas day, when an opportunity will be given to recite the generally accepted truth that "It is more blessed to give than to receive," and so exemplifying the true spirit of Christmas.

On account of the union Thanksgiving service in the Presbyterian church there will be no mid-week meeting in our church next Wednesday evening. Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject, "Things to be kept." In the evening he will continue the series on "My Hand," when his subject will be "Partnership," suggested by the ring finger. He will have something interesting to say to young people, suggested by a wedding at which he recently officiated.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The organization services of the Congregational church of Glendale, will be held Sunday, November 25, at 11 o'clock a. m., at K. of P. hall, Brand boulevard near Third street. Following is the program:

Voluntary and doxology, Invocation and the Lord's Prayer, Psalm 122, Hymn 252, Scripture, Cor. 1:13, Rev. P. W. Field: solo, Mrs. Sherman; prayer, Rev. C. S. Billings; solo, Mr. Frank Raglan; announcements and offering; violin solo, Miss Payne; sermon, Rev. Alfred W. Hare; solo, Mrs. Melford; organization of the church, Rev. E. H. Willisford, Ph.D., minister in charge; greetings, Rev. H. P. Case, Rev. C. S. Billings; hymn 225; benediction.

Committee of arrangements consists of R. A. Petersen, E. D. Yard, Mrs. Geo. Adams, E. H. Willisford.

The Sunday school will be at 10 a. m., addressed by Rev. H. P. Case.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Next Sunday morning is the W. H. M. S. - thanksgiving. Prof. Tully Knoles will deliver the address. In the evening the pastor will preach, subject, "The Master's Thanksgiving." Alfred Clark will lead the class meeting at 12 m.

Epworth League subject, "Abstinence and Prosperity" (Jer. 35). Oliver Clark, leader.

Tuesday night the Ladies' Aid will conduct a measuring social. Light refreshments.

No prayer meeting, on account of the union Thanksgiving service in the Presbyterian church.

Ninth Epworth League Convention of the Pasadena District in Asbury Church, Los Angeles, next Friday and Saturday.

Bible school is increasing in attendance. The new bungalow gives ample room for all purposes. Come, and you will not be crowded.
You are invited to all our services.

NOTED AUTHOR VISITS GLENDALE.

Harold Bell Wright, author of the Calling of Dan Matthews, the winning of Barbara West and other books that have brought him fame and wealth, and which endeared him to the hearts of a multitude of Americans, paid a visit to Glendale and its back-hill region in company with John S. McGroarty, the poet of the L. A. Times and M. V. Hartranft of the Western Empire Magazine. Mr. Wright was driven through all the Glendale foothill region and marveled at its wealth of scenic resource of which so little is known abroad. He intends to return within a few weeks for a rest and recreation in our back country.

Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso W. Tower entertained Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crandall of Alhambra at dinner Saturday evening.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL MATTERS

Bids in for Construction of Intermediate School Building—Consolidation Still Unsettled

At 11 a. m., Monday last, the trustees of the Glendale Grammar School District opened bids for the erection of the intermediate school house on Third Street. The bids submitted were as follows: Kling Co. of Los Angeles, $25,465; F. M. Walton, Los Angeles, $27,730; Anderson & Murdock, Glendale, $27,142; G. Hanson, Los Angeles, $24,905; Thos. H. Addison, Glendale, $23,576.50. None of the bids included plumbing, wiring and heating, which it is estimated will add about $3,000 to the cost. The cost of the lots upon which the school is to stand, and where the temporary school is located, will approximate $9,500 net (deducting the amount received for old buildings). If the lowest bid is accepted, as it probably will be, the total cost of the ground and building will be about $36,000. This will leave only $4,000 of the bond issue proceeds on hand. The trustees find themselves in a peculiar position, as the public meeting which was called to instruct them practically wound up by telling them to build a $25,000 structure for about $18,000.

Although the contract has not been signed, it is understood that the trustees will accept Mr. Addison's bid and sign up in a day or two.

The trustees have called a public meeting of freeholders for Saturday evening, December 2, at Odd Fellows Hall, to instruct them as to purchase of lots at Doran and Louise Streets for another school. This is in accordance with the action of the last public meeting, which instructed them to defer action for thirty days. Circumstances have so changed since the original instructions as to purchase of these lots were given that at present there seems to be no demand upon the part of any considerable number of people for the erection of a school house in that neighborhood. The Casa Verdugo people want a separate district with a school building west of Central Avenue, north of the wash, and are endeavoring to get a district formed by taking off a portion of the Glendale city district lying north of the wash and adding to it a part of the West Glendale district. This is objected to by a large number of people in all the districts, and a numerous signed petition for the consolidation of the Glendale and the West Glendale districts into one district is now in the hands of Superintendent Keppel, the matter to be brought up before him at an early date. It is understood that this petition represents a majority of the heads of families in both districts.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

At our last meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. Julia Beer's, 309 Belmont street, eighteen ladies were instructed along political duties by Mrs. Sidney Dell.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Paul, 532 Orange street, Dec. 1, at which time she will take up the voting and go through the routine of voting. Now, ladies, do not forget the time, 2:30, Friday, Dec. 1, and the place, and for once crowd out other duties.

We feel we must urge young people to attend high school and college. When now so many opportunities are given young men to enter and graduate without a dollar. All men now, at the age of 30 or more, realize that had they known in their school years that they could have worked their way through school and college, and in all the years to come enjoy the privileges and business advantages that education brings, more of them would have had more education. And young women are better fitted for any duties of life, be it teacher or mother. This brings out the thought of the mothers who are forever nagging. A little boy once said, I know I ought to love my mamma more, but I just can't help loving Aunt Mary best, she does not nag a fellow. She never says we are the torment of her life, and did not fly off the handle when we were ugly. She did not throw up to you what you've done wrong, and sure you will do it again. And somehow we don't disappoint her." It's that old nagging. It's like a flea was crawling over you where you can't get at him and every now and then giving you a nip. All unconsciously mothers drive the dear boys out of the home to find amusements some where else.

The time is not long that the children are in the home, all too soon they are gone, so our influence for good or bad is while they are in the home. Mothers be patient and kind. The pool room is not the place we want them in. God intended that every clean pleasure should minister to our good. Christianity does not rob young people of anything that is intended for their highest happiness. The main objection to the pool room is the promiscuous attendance of people of doubtful character. The fathers and mothers ought to vote to keep out pool rooms and subscribe to a Y. M. C. A. room. Our W. C. T. U. appointed a committee Friday last to interview and investigate about one here.

MRS. GAYLORD, President.

BENEFIT DANCE.

Wednesday evening, November 29, at Odd Fellows Hall, there will be a dance given for the benefit of the Glendale Band, the proceeds to be used in paying for uniforms. It is a good cause. Turn out and help it along.

UNION HIGH SCHOOL

Some Extracts From the Financial Log—Miscellaneous Expenses for October

The NEWS offers another installment of information in regard to the expenditures of the High School. We wish also to acknowledge the courtesy received at the hands of Principal Moyse and the trustees in cheerfully offering the record for our inspection. Any of our readers desiring to be informed as to any expenditure can obtain the information by applying to these officials or to the NEWS. The following are the principal items, outside of salaries Verdugo Springs Water Co., $10; sewing machines, domestic science department, $180.50; hauling for hand ball courts, $20.50; hardware and labor, $113.50; Parmalee-Dohrman Co., cooking utensils (domestic science), $32.27; Shover's Grocery, domestic science material, $32.50; Litchfield Lumber Co., lumber for lockers, seats, grand stand, etc., $262; Valley Supply Co., seeds, coal, fertilizer, $43.95; Grimes-Strassford, material, drawing department, $10.55; Bullock's, material, domestic science, $14.15; Commercial Printing House, binding, $20.25; Glendale Book Store, $19.15; Shaver Grocery, domestic science, $17.55; Barker Bros., chairs, couches, etc., $89; Braun Corporation, charts, etc., $18.09; S. C. Electric Co., bell system, $12.50; Desk Co., desks, stands, chairs, $62; Cunningham, Curtis & Welsh, books, pencils, stamps, $47.02; Heffelfinger & H., music, $43.40.

The above are the items above $10. Since the beginning of the school year there has been an expenditure of $411 for carpentering and $175 for painting, being principally for work done during vacation. It includes the installing of over a hundred new lockers. The first expenditure in the installation of the manual training department was an item of $569.95 paid Ritchie & Grotthouse, the lowest bidders. This department is now in full swing, with about thirty enthusiastic workers, who are able from time to time to do many small jobs of carpentering about the school, saving that much expense.

DROPPED IN TO SEE US GROW.

A. J. and Arthur Wheeler called at the NEWS office the other day to see the editor and get pointers on the growth of Glendale. These two brothers along in the boom days of 1907 published for about a year, the GLENDALE ENGINAL, a weekly paper which was very creditable to the time and place. The editor of the NEWS was a frequent but irregular contributor to its columns. The place of publication was in the basement of what is now the Glendale Sanitarium building, at that time a hotel, or possibly a seminary, as it was for a time. Mr. A. J. Wheeler is clerk in one of the Superior court departments in Los Angeles, while his brother has done well as one of the prominent citizens of the state of Washington.

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT.

On Monday before Judge Whomes, Watson B. Fitzer who had been arrested by Marshal Miller Saturday evening for making a disturbance on West Seventh street while intoxicated, and kept in the county jail in the interim, was fined $30.00.

On Tuesday Officer Everett brought in another victim who was fined $15. He was caught in a maulin state on Brand boulevard and also spent a night in the county lock-up before being released.

CONCERT AT HIGH SCHOOL.

There will be a Victrola concert at the High School auditorium this (Friday) afternoon, when those present will have an opportunity of hearing portions of the opera of Il Trovatore. An admission fee of 10c for pupils and 15c for others will be charged. The object is to raise funds to assist in paying for the instrument which the pupils have undertaken to do. There should be a large attendance.

CHAPTER III THE JENSEN.

TWO days passed, and Sheldon felt that he could not grow any weaker and live, much less make his four daily rounds of the hospital. The deaths were averaging four a day, and there were more new cases than recoveries. The blacks were in a funk. Each one, when taken sick, seemed to make every effort to die. They believed they were going to die, and yet, believing this with absolute conviction, they somehow lacked the nerve to rush the frail white man with the white skin and escape from the charnel house by the white boat. They chose the lingering death they were sure awaited them rather than the immediate death they were very sure would be upon them if they went up against the monster. That he never slept they knew. That he could not be conquered to death they were equally sure—they had tried it. And even the sickness that was sweeping them off could not kill him.

With the whipping in the compound discipline had improved. They cringed under the iron hand of the white man. They gave their souls or malignant looks with averted faces or when the back was turned. They saved their mutterings for the barracks at night, where he could not hear. And there were no signs of demerit and no more night snows on the veranda.

Dawn of the third day after the whipping brought the Jensen's white sails in sight. His partner was on board, vigorous and hearty from six weeks recruiting in Malaita. He could take charge now and all would be well with Bernade.

Sheldon lay in the steamer chair and watched the Jensen's whiteboat pull in for the beach. He wondered why only three sweeps were pulling, and he wondered still more when, beached, there was so much delay in getting out of the boat. Then he understood. The three blacks who had been pulling started up the beach with a stretcher on their shoulders. A white man, whom he recognized as the Jensen's captain, walked in front and opened the gate, then dropped behind to close it. Sheldon knew that it was Haggle Drummond who lay in the stretcher, and a mist came before his eyes. He felt an overwhelming desire to die. The disappointment was too great. In his own state of terrible weakness he felt that it was impossible to go on with his task of building Bernade plantation right gripped in his fist. Then the will of him flamed up again, and he directed the blacks to lay the stretcher beside him on the floor. Haggle Drummond, whom he had last seen in health, was an emaciated skeleton.

"Black water fever," the captain said. "He's been like this for six days, unconscious. And we've got dysentery on board. What's the matter with you?"

"Up buying for a day," Sheldon answered, as he bent over from the steamer chair and inserted a thermometer under his partner's tongue. Captain Jensen swore himself and sent a house boy to bring whiskey and soda. Sheldon glanced at the thermometer.

"One hundred and seven," he said. "Four fifties."

Captain Jensen offered him some whiskey. "Don't think of it, perdition, you know," Sheldon said. He sent for a house boy and ordered a grave to be dug also, some of the parking camp to be knocked together for a coffin. Having given the orders, Sheldon lay back in his chair with closed eyes.

"It's been fair hell, sir," Captain Jensen began, then broke off to help himself to more whiskey. "Curious, white and calm. We've been drifting all about the ship for ten days. There's ten thousand sharks following us for the market we've been throwing over to them. They was snapping at the ears when we started to come ashore. We got it from the water—water from Onga creek. Filled my canteen with it. How was we to know? I've filled these before as it was all right. We had sixty recruits—fall up, and my crew of them. We've been buying them day in and night. The beggars won't live, dead about. They die out of spite. Only three of my crew left on the boat. Five more down. Seven dead. Oh, it's—? What's the good of talking?"

Sheldon sighed.

"That means another addition to the hospital. We've got to get them ashore somehow. Vialbert! Hey, you, Vialbert, ring the bells! Strong! Strong! Strong!"

The hands, called in from the fields at that unwatched hour, were split into detachments. Some were sent into the woods to cut timber for house beams, others to cutting cane grass for thatching and forty of them lifted a white boat above their heads and carried it down to the sea. Sheldon had grunted his teeth, pulled his cap up and together and taken Bernade plantation into his fist once more.

"Have you seen the barometer?" Captain Jensen asked, pointing at the bottom of the steps on his way to oversee the disembarkation of the sick.

"No," Sheldon answered. "Is it down?"

"It's going down."

"Then you'd better sleep about tonight," was Sheldon's judgment.

"Never mind the funeral. I'll see to poor Haggle. If you can see your way to it, come ashore tomorrow and send me a hand. If you can't, send the mate."

"Right. O. I'll come myself. Mr. Jensen's dead, sir. I forgot to tell you—three days ago."

Sheldon turned to his partner, calling for boys to carry him into the house. But Haggle Drummond had reached the end. His breathing was imperceptible. By mere touch Sheldon could ascertain that the dying man's temperature was going down. It must have been going down when the thermometer registered one hundred and seven. He had turned out. Sheldon knelt beside him, the house boys grouped around their white singlets and loin cloths peculiarly at variance with their dark skins and savage countenances, their huge ear plugs and carved and glistening nose rings. Sheldon tottered to his feet at last and half fell into the steamer chair. Oppressive as the heat had been it was now even more oppressive. It was difficult to breathe. He panted for air. The faces and naked arms of the house boys were banded with sweat.

"Marster," one of them ventured, "his fella wind be come, strong fella too much."

Sheldon nodded his head, but did not look. Much as he had loved Haggle Drummond, his death and the funeral it entailed seemed an intolerable burden to add to what he was already slaking under. He had a feeling—may it was a certainty—that all he had to do was to shut his eyes and let go and that he would die, sink into unconsciousness of rest. His weary body seemed torn by the oncoming pangs of dissolution. He was a fool to hang on. He had died a score of deaths already, and what was the use of prolonging it to two score deaths before he really died? Not only was he not afraid to die, but he desired to die.

But his mind that could will life or death still pruned on. He saw the two whiteboats land on the beach and the sick on stretchers or pickaninies, crawling and walking, go by in huge numbers. He saw the wind whirling on the clouded horizon and thought of the sick in the hospital. There was something waiting for his hand to be done, and it was not in his nature to lie down and sleep or die when any task remained undone.

The house boys were called and given their orders to rope down the hospital with its two additions—the remembered spare anchor chain, new and black painted, that hung under the house suspended from the floor beams and ordered it as he used on the hospital as well. Other boys brought the coffin, a grotesque patchwork of packing cases, and under his directions they laid Haggle Drummond in it. Half a dozen boys carried it down the beach, while he rode on the back of another, his arms around the black's neck, one hand clutching a prayer book.

While he read the service the blacks gazed apprehensively at the dark line on the water, above which sailed and tumbled the racing clouds. The first breath of the wind, faint and still, came with life, fanned through his dry baked body as he finished reading. Then came the second breath of the wind, an angry gust, as the showers worked rapidly filling in the sand. So heavy was the gust that Sheldon, still on his feet, seized hold of the man-horse to escape being blown away. The Jensen was blown out, and a strange, ominous sound arose as multitudinous warblers struck beating on the beach. It was like the bubbling of some colossal cauldron. From all about could be heard the dull clanking of falling coconuts. The tall, delicate, crinkled trees twisted and snapped about like whiplashes. The air seemed filled with their dying leaves, any one of which, stem-on, could bring a man. Then came the rain, a deluge, a straight, horizontal sheet that poured along like a river, defying gravitation. The black, with Sheldon mounted on

CALIFORNIA

Its History and Romance

By John S. McGroarty

A book that you will sit up nights to read. It is a one-volume story of the most wonderful state in the world, told in the language of a poet. Every phrase is a song; every statement is a fact. It thrills and thrills and thrills.

Eloquent, yet concise; beautiful, yet solid; fascinating, yet instructive; it contains all that is essential and is a portrayal of California by the Golden State's most gifted and best loved writer.

Adapted to youth, middle-aged and elderly persons alike, it meets the universal demand of all for a single-volume history of California. It is very valuable to the student, not only for the knowledge it contains, but also as a study in word-painting and phraseology.

This work has been reviewed and passed upon by the most eminent historians and literary critics of California, to their complete satisfaction.

In one volume, thoroughly indexed, beautifully illustrated, splendidly bound and printed in good readable type, it is the most valuable book on the Holiday counter. Be sure that some member of your family receives it as a Christmas remembrance in order that it may have a place in your home.

Written by a California, published by a California house, it fulfills in every respect your choicest demand. Sold at all bookstores, or address him, plunged ahead into the thick of it, stooping far forward and low to the ground to avoid being toppled over backward.

"He's sleeping out and far go right," Sheldon quoted as he thought of the dead man in the sand and the rainwater trickling down upon the cold clay.

So they fought their way back up the beach. The other blacks caught hold of the man-horse and pulled and tugged. There were among them those whose fondest desire was to drag the rider in the sand and lying upon him and smash him into repulsive nothingness. But the automatic pistol in his belt, with its rattling, quick death-defying spirit in the man himself under their nefarious and buckle down to the task of hauling him to safety through the storm.

Wet through and exhausted, he was nevertheless surprised at the ease with which he got into a change of clothing. Though he was fearfully weak, he found himself actually feeling better. The disease had spent itself, and the need had begun.

"Now, if I don't get the fever," he said aloud and at the same moment resolved to go to taking quinine as soon as he was strong enough to drive.

He crawled out on the veranda. The rain had ceased, but the wind, which had dwindled to a half gale, was increasing. A big sea had sprung up, and the little long breakers, curling up to the overfall 200 yards from the shore, were crashing on the beach. The Jensen was plunging madly to two anchors, and every second or third sea broke clear over her bow. Two flags were stiffly undulating from the bulwarks like squares of battle sheet torn. One was blue, the other red. He knew their meaning in the Bernade private code. "What are your instructions? Shall I attempt to land boat?" Tacked on the wall between the signal locker and the bulletin case was the code used, by which he verified the signal before making answer. On the flagstaff a boy hoisted a white flag over a red, which stood for, "Don't land boat for shelter."

That Captain Jensen had been expecting this signal was apparent by the clarity with which the ship's crew were knocked out of both anchor chains. He slipped his anchors, leaving them hooped to be picked up in better weather. The Jensen swung under her full sails; then the foremast, double-masted, was run up. She was away like a race horse, clearing the ocean ahead with half a cable length to spare. Just before she rounded the point she was swallowed up in a terrific squall that for awhile the first.

All that night, while squall after squall smote Bernade, growing trees, overhanging cliffs shuddered and rocking the house on its tall piles, Sheldon slept. He was unconscious of the confusion. He never awakened, nor did he change his position or dream. He gave a new man. Furthermore, he was hungry. It was over a week since food had passed his lips. He drank a glass of condensed cream thinned with water, and by 10 o'clock he dared to take a cup of beef tea. He was chosen man by the situation in the hospital. Despite the storm there had been but one death, and there was only one fresh case, while half a dozen boys crawled weakly away to the barracks. He wondered if it was the wind that was moving the disease away and cleansing the pestilential land.

By eleven a messenger arrived from Bernade village, dispatched by Senie. The Jensen had gone ashore halfway between the village and Kani island. It was not till midnight that two of the crew arrived, reporting the drowning of Captain Jensen and of the one remaining boy. As for the Jensen, from what they told him, Sheldon could not but conclude that she was a total loss. Further to lighten him he was taken by a shivering fit. In half an hour he was burning up. And he knew that at least another day must pass before he could undertake even the smallest dose of quinine. He crawled under a heap of blankets and a little later found himself laughing aloud. He had surely reached the limit of disaster. Barring earthquake or tidal wave, the worst had already befallen him. The Plutonium-Globet was certainly safe in Mabel's post. Since nothing worse could happen things simply had to mend. So it was, shivering under his blankets, that he laughed until the house boys, with heads together, marveled at the devil that were in him.

When Liszt Met Dirks.

A Paris contemporary relates an interesting story of Liszt. The great pianist was living in a little German town when Dirks, the Norwegian painter, went to reside at the same place, thinking he would be able to work there without interruptions. He had been installed in his new quarters only one day when he made the pianist's acquaintance. The painter had been trying his art for about two hours, and then he gave up in despair. He went outside, and at the same time Liszt came out for a breath of fresh air.

The painter addressed the pianist and this dialogue ensued: "Are you the pianist, monsieur, whom I have heard all day?" "Yes, monsieur." "It is very interesting." "Alas, monsieur, you do not love music?" "I detest it." "It is very regrettable, but I must practice." "But you disturb me in my work. Moreover, you play atrociously." "Ah you think so? It is the first time any one has ever told me so." "Judging from your age, there have been many opportunities," was the painter's answer. Then there was silence for a moment. Liszt, going indoors, contented himself with the observation, "My name is Liszt."

Nature's Parachutes.

Careful examination has been made of the heads of Canada thistle-downs in order to determine their effectiveness as parachutes carrying the seeds of the plant to great distances through the air. The results of this examination are quite remarkable. Calculation shows that a thistle-down starting from an elevation of twenty feet in still air would require two-thirds of a minute to reach the ground. With a wind blowing twenty miles an hour it would be carried on the average about a fifth of a mile. The total surface exposed to the air in an average thistle-down is, on account of the great number of hairlets, a little more than one-third of a square foot. Another well known and very beautiful example of nature's parachutes is furnished by the light silken threads with the aid of which the little gossamer spider makes long aerial voyages.—Scientific American.

Making Love by Telephone.

Wooing is a slightly more complicated matter in Sardinia than it is here. The marriage customs are very curious. If a father has a marriageable daughter he would be suitor applies to him for permission to see her as she goes to church, or in the event of her not wishing to be seen he communicates with her by means of a species of telephone which has been in use since time immemorial. It is a long string with a wooden knob at each end. The father's permission having been given, the lady drops one knob out of the window and the shutters being closed, places the other knob to the ear, while down below her would be lover pours his protestations into the knob she has thrown into the street. Sometimes this curious form of courtship continues for two or three years, the man never seeing the face of his innamorata.

Longfellow's Incomplete Library.

I remember there was one little boy of whom Longfellow was very fond and who came often to see him. One day the child looked earnestly at the long rows of books in the library and at length said: "Have you got 'Jack the Giant Killer'?" Longfellow was obliged to confess that his library did not contain that venerated volume. The little boy looked very sorry and presently slipped down from his knee and went away, but early next morning Longfellow saw him coming up the walk with something tightly clasped in his little fists. The child had brought him, 2 cents with which he was to buy a "Jack the Giant Killer," to be his own. —Annie Field, "Authors and Friends."

Insect Tones.

An investigator given to the collection of curious data has observed that there are at least three different tones emitted by insects—a low one during flight, a higher one when the wings are held in such manner that they do not vibrate and a yet higher tone when the insect is held so that none of its limbs can be moved. This last, it is pointed out, is the "voice proper" of the insect. In some cases it is produced by the stigmata of the thorax.

Thoughtful Painter.

"I see you are paying the hospital expenses of that painter who fell off the roof." "Yes. He's too good a man to lose. As he went down he touched up two or three places which would have been very hard to reach."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Where It Hurts.

"I tell you," said Sinnick, "men are getting so deceitful these days that you can't trust your best friends." "And what's worse," interrupted Borroughs gloomily, "you can't get your best friends to trust you."—Catholic Standard and Times.

It Certainly Did.

"Johnny," said the Sunday school teacher, "can you tell me what caused the flood?" "Yes, ma'am," answered the little fellow; "it rained."—Chicago News.

RESOLUTION NO. 421.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE, CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION TO BE HELD ON THE 16TH DAY OF DECEMBER, 1911, IN SAID CITY TO VOTE UPON THE QUESTION OF CONSOLIDATING THE CITY OF TROPICO WITH SAID CITY OF GLENDALE; ESTABLISHING AN ELECTION PRECINCT AND THE POLLING PLACE; AND APPOINTING ELECTION OFFICERS FOR SAID ELECTION, AND PROVIDING FOR THE GIVING OF NOTICE THEREOF.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do hereby certify that the following Resolution was duly passed by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, at a regular meeting thereof, held the 13th day of November, 1911, and that the same was passed by the following vote: To-wit:

Ayes: Coker, Lane, Watson, White, Williams.

Noes: None.

G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

Section 1. That the public interest and convenience require and it is the intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, to order the following street work to be done in said City, to-wit:

First: That all that portion of Verdugo Road from a line drawn across said Verdugo Road from the most westerly corner of Lot 85 of Watts' Subdivision of a part of the Rancho San Rafael as per map recorded in Book 5, pages 200-201 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, said line forming a right angle with the westerly line of said Lot 85, to the South city boundary line of the City of Glendale, including all intersections of streets (excepting such portion of said street and intersections as are required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon), be graded, oiled and macadamized in accordance with the plan and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer, and Special Specifications for grading, oiling and macadamizing said portion of Verdugo Road on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, which said Special Specifications were duly adopted for said work by Resolution No. 423 by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along each line of the roadway of said Verdugo Road from a line drawn across said Verdugo Road from the most westerly corner of Lot 85 of Watts' Subdivision of a part of the Rancho San Rafael as per map recorded in Book 5, pages 200-201 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, said line forming a right angle with the westerly line of said Lot 85, to the South city boundary line of the City of Glendale, including returns at all street intersections, in accordance with the specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2, except that the outer or street face of said curb shall be placed twelve (12) feet from the property line of said Verdugo Road instead of the distance specified in said specifications No. 2; and also except that said curb shall be omitted on the West line of the roadway of said Verdugo Road from a point 104 feet Southerly from the South line of First Street to a point 154 feet Southerly from said South line of First Street.

Third: That culverts shall be constructed at the intersections of Third Street and Verdugo Road, Sixth Street and Verdugo Road and Tenth Street and Verdugo Road in accordance with Special Plans and Specifications for the construction of said culverts on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, which said Special Plans and Specifications were duly adopted for said work by Resolution No. 424 by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Sec. 2. That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer of said City of Glendale, that the total cost of said proposed work or improvement shall be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, as hereinafter set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage; and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall be extended over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the 2nd day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July respectively of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27th, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof.

Section 3: The Glendale News, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution and notice of said street work inviting sealed proposals shall be published in the manner and form and by the persons required by law.

Section 4: The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the Chamber door of the Board of Trustees, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work and referring to the Specifications posted or on file.

Said notice shall require a certified check or bond, either, as prescribed by law, for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said City Clerk is also hereby directed to publish this Resolution for two days, in the manner required by law, in said newspaper designated for that purpose, as aforesaid.

Adopted and approved this 20th day of November, 1911.

Resolution No. 428

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE ORDERING CERTAIN STREET WORK TO BE DONE ON SECOND STREET.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do hereby certify that the following Resolution was duly passed by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, at a regular meeting thereof, held on the 20th day of November, 1911, and that the same was passed by the following vote: To-wit:

Ayes: Coker, Lane, Watson, White, Williams.

Noes: None.

G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

Section 1: That the street work herein described is required by the public interest and convenience, and the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, hereby orders the same to be done according to the Specifications and Plans adopted for said work, and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets of said City, to-wit:

First: That that portion of Second Street from the West line of Sinclair Avenue to the Easterly line of Verdugo Road be graded and oiled in accordance with plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer and specifications for the grading and oiling of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 10, excepting that in addition to said specifications No. 10 there shall be incorporated into the center 20 feet of the roadway a layer of gravel two and one-half (2½) inches thick, of which the maximum pieces will pass through a 2½-inch ring and the minimum pieces will not pass through a ½-inch ring. In the following manner: When the roadway is ready for the final coating of oil as called for in said specifications, the 2½ inches of gravel of the sizes as above specified shall then be evenly spread over the entire surface and rolled into said roadway, and then completed as provided for in Specifications Number 10.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along both lines of the roadway of said Second Street from the West line of Sinclair Avenue to the Easterly line of Verdugo Road in accordance with the specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the said City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2.

Third: That a cement walk five (5) feet in width be constructed along each line of said Second Street from the West line of Sinclair Avenue to the Easterly line of Verdugo Road, said sidewalk to be constructed in accordance with Specifications for the construction of cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 1.

Sec. 2. That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer of said City of Glendale, that the total cost of said proposed work or improvement shall be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, as hereinafter set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage; and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall be extended over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the 2nd day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July respectively of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27th, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof.

Section 3: The Glendale News, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution and notice of said street work inviting sealed proposals shall be published in the manner and form and by the persons required by law.

Section 4: The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the Chamber door of the Board of Trustees, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work and referring to the Specifications posted or on file.

Said notice shall require a certified check or bond, either, as prescribed by law, for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said City Clerk is also hereby directed to publish this Resolution for two days, in the manner required by law, in said newspaper designated for that purpose, as aforesaid.

G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

Section 1: That the street work herein described is required by the public interest and convenience, and the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, hereby orders the same to be done according to the Specifications and Plans adopted for said work, and under the direction and to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Streets of said City, to-wit:

First: That that portion of Second Street from the West line of Sinclair Avenue to the Easterly line of Verdugo Road be graded and oiled in accordance with plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer and specifications for the grading and oiling of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 10, excepting that in addition to said specifications No. 10 there shall be incorporated into the center 20 feet of the roadway a layer of gravel two and one-half (2½) inches thick, of which the maximum pieces will pass through a 2½-inch ring and the minimum pieces will not pass through a ½-inch ring. In the following manner: When the roadway is ready for the final coating of oil as called for in said specifications, the 2½ inches of gravel of the sizes as above specified shall then be evenly spread over the entire surface and rolled into said roadway, and then completed as provided for in Specifications Number 10.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along both lines of the roadway of said Second Street from the West line of Sinclair Avenue to the Easterly line of Verdugo Road in accordance with the specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the said City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2.

Third: That a cement walk five (5) feet in width be constructed along each line of said Second Street from the West line of Sinclair Avenue to the Easterly line of Verdugo Road, said sidewalk to be constructed in accordance with Specifications for the construction of cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 1.

Sec. 2. That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer of said City of Glendale, that the total cost of said proposed work or improvement shall be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, as hereinafter set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage; and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall be extended over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the 2nd day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July respectively of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27th, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto or amendatory thereof.

Section 3: The Glendale News, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution and notice of said street work inviting sealed proposals shall be published in the manner and form and by the persons required by law.

Section 4: The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the Chamber door of the Board of Trustees, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work and referring to the Specifications posted or on file.

Said notice shall require a certified check or bond, either, as prescribed by law, for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said City Clerk is also hereby directed to publish this Resolution for two days, in the manner required by law, in said newspaper designated for that purpose, as aforesaid.

Adopted and approved this 20th day of November, 1911.

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR., President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

GLENDAL, CAL., NOVEMBER 24, 1911

A letter received from our valued friend, Rev. J. H. Henry, at Winne-muca, Nev., contains the suggestion that Glendale annex Winnemucca.
"Tis a happy thought, and with the consent of Casa Verdugo we see no reason why the election should not be called at once!

The immense number of false registrations in Los Angeles show almost unmistakably a conspiracy
against the ballot box, the foundation of American citizenship. It will be the wish of all good citizens that in the punishment of the lawbreakers
there may be no guilty man escape.

The suffragettes in London who embarked on a window-smashing campaign have demonstrated quite successfully their unfitness for the ballot.
They should take lessons from their American cousins, who won their victory by methods which left them still deserving of the respect of their opponents.

The other day in San Francisco, Mrs. Anna M. Donahue, widow of the late Michael Donahue, who left a fortune of $480,000, voluntarily went into court and requested that her monthly allowance of $3000 be reduced to $2000
as the latter represented her spending ability. It is to be hoped that proceedings in lunacy may not be a sequel to the story which is almost incredible in a time when the spending of money has become a fine art, readily mastered.

David Blapham has been singing to crowded houses in Los Angeles, and is said to be "one of the great singers who can sing understandable English." There, we are glad somebody has said it. Usually the "great singers" stick so persistently to German or Italian that they make us almost sorry that we do not understand the beautiful language of spaghetti or weinerwurst; and then when one of them occasionally condescends to sing down to us in our own tongue, we blush for English "as she is sung."

Prof. Reinach announces that certain archaeological discoveries demonstrate the fact that Sappho was a married woman and kept a boarding house.
We are glad to have the lady's reputation retrieved, even at this late date.
It was always hard for us to believe that she was all that the poet implied
when he wrote, "Those Isles of Greece,
where burning Sappho loved and sung."
Henceforward we shall be pleased to fancy her, between meals,
while Mr. Sappho washed the dishes,
grinding out those little love ditties
which made her famous, preferring to serve the Myletians Hamburgers steak and sauerkraut, rather than depend upon fickle and finicky publishers for the means of support!

THANKSGIVING.

He is a mortal needing the pity of the world indeed, who cannot at least for one day in the year add his infinitesimal contribution to the grand panoply of thanksgiving which wells up from the great heart of the universe to the Power that started out upon their orbits the planets that swing around the sun, the blazing orbs that we call stars which blink at us from inconceivable distances in the interstellar
"gulphs of space," and all the myriad worlds beyond our vision which science and the faith that is within us declare exist. Human life is a thing of infinite viewpoint; it is not only what we make it, but it is what we choose to see in it, and surely the veriest pessimist of us all can see therein something that is good; can,
if he chooses, see in it an infinitude
of goodness.

Why should not the people of this favored land of ours, with one accord
on this one day in the year, agree to see the sunshine that blazes perpetually beyond the clouds? If anyone is afflicted with a disposition to think more poorly of his fellow men than of himself, why not on this day endow
them in his mind with at least one small virtue, and dwell upon it until it obscures the faults with which we clothe them? At the Thanksgiving season it is proper and uplifting that we remember the great fact that truth

is not found by looking downward;
she has her home upon the mountain

AN INTERESTING POLITICAL SITUATION.

The Socialists in Los Angeles are under obligations to the "Good Government" movement, whether they acknowledge it or not, for their ability to make such a show of strength as they did at the late primary election.
The breaking up of the old political lines and the abandoning of old party machinery made it possible for the Socialists to recruit their forces from the ranks of the labor unions as they never were able to do before. Had the Republican and Democratic parties
possessed effective working organizations as they once did, they would have divided the labor union vote more or less equally with the Socialist party.
The interesting question that this suggests is this: To what extent is the experience of Los Angeles to be repeated throughout the country? The spirit of insurgency is in the air. It affects both of the old parties alike;
everywhere there is a breaking down
of party lines, and it is interesting and possibly useful to speculate somewhat in regard to the result. There are a great many people who believe that partisan politics should be confined to the wastebasket forever, and a great many more other people who believe that this is neither practicable nor desirable. It looks as if the matter would be put to a test very generally. Will the Socialist party rather to its ranks
the discontented of all parties in the nation as it has to a great extent in Los Angeles? And will the other parties combine throughout the nation to oppose Socialism, as they have done in Los Angeles? It looks very much at present as if this would be the result,

and we do not believe that the outcome can be favorable to the Socialist party.

NOT AN "UNPRECEDENTED AFFAIR."

The Los Angeles papers are in error
when they make the statement, in giving account of the interruptions of speakers at the Good Government meeting the other night, that the affair was "unprecedented in this city."
As a matter of fact, the attempt at certain sympathizers of the Socialist party to break up an opposition meeting was a duplication of what occurred in the "Free Silver" Bryan campaign of 1896. In the early part of that campaign the hoodlum element of the Democratic party went systematically, night after night, to Republican meetings, and interrupted
the speakers with cheers, groans, cat-calls and all kinds of vocal noises. The fact finally dawned upon the managers of the Bryan party that the action of their followers in this respect was reacting upon the cause which they represented, and so it was stopped.
These disturbances were made by the same element of Los Angeles society that attempted to break up the Alexander meetings. They have changed their political coats, but have not been regenerated. They belong to the class of people who do not seem able to grasp the idea that free American citizens cannot be intimidated or coerced.
They bring down into practical life
the peculiar idea of political science which so many otherwise intelligent people seem to cherish, which is that capital can be driven toward the thing

it fears. The advocates of the propaganda of force, by their threats against capitalists, go far towards driving capital from the marts of trade, for nothing is more timid. Capitalists have no fear of an enemy that is without power, but the capital which is essential to the welfare of every man who works for wages will take to itself wings as its avowed enemy obtains a position of influence.

VERDUGO VALLEY DEVELOPMENT

Owners of the Local Trolley System
Explain Their Plans.

Announcements have been made public that the big 700-acre vineyard on the Mesnerger rancho in the historic Verdugo Valley, north of this city, will be subdivided and improved along the lines of a model suburban community. This valley of the Verdugo, extending northward from this city, leads into the beautiful Crescenta-Canyada and Monte Vista valleys,
and while the region is little known
it is a district of great beauty, encircled by the green Verdugo and San Rafael hills, with the high Sierras
as a background forming almost a natural tabernacle in the hills.
During the past year M. V. Hart and C. H. Jones, publishers of the Western Empire Magazine, purchased most of the lands of the Monte Vista Valley, and in the operation purchased the full control of local Glendale and Eagle Rock trolley system, which is the only independent line in territory tributary to Los Angeles. The campaign on Monte Vista lands has closed and the entire valley has been sold to a public syndicate of Southern California and eastern people, who are now building homes there and improving the roads and boulevards through the valley.

The Western Empire company is forming a public syndicate to take over the entire 1500 acres in the Mes-nerger rancho, and half of the stock ownership of the Glendale local trolley system. The members of the syndicate will each be allowed to select one of the residence lots from the first maps, and then retain their stock investment in the project which owns 1000 acres of adjoining lands and a half interest in the entire trolley system. This is the tenth project of this character inaugurated by the publishers of this well-known magazine,
and the other half of the stock in the trolley system will be owned by the members of their ninth project which owns the Monte Vista Valley lands.
The project is of great interest to Glendale, as it will bring publicity
and large population to the beautiful valleys which constitute the principal back country of Glendale.

Plans of the Promoters.
At the request of the NEWS, Mr.
Hartman made the following statement:

"We have officially announced this project on the Mesnerger vineyard property, in accord with what we have already told many of the leading men
in Glendale during the past summer.
We do not like to make any outline
of detail plans yet, until the progress of the project is a little more settled.
We have just finished a remarkable campaign on Monte Vista lands, at prices ranging from $400 to $500 an acre and in some few cases higher.
These were the left over, or pooled lands belonging to the public syndicate which originally took the land
last June at $300 an acre. As a result of these heavy sales at these prices
our Monte Vista members nearly doubled their original investments inside of four months to one year, which necessarily helps give us a fine market for the Verdugo project, which is being shown in the progress already made. We do not, however, intend to make any definite plans until after the political conditions in Los Angeles
are more settled.

We still have a town center to create in the Monte Vista valley, and have the social and economic foundation for it already laid, but in developing in that direction we are dependent upon the co-operation of the intervening territory. We considered that it would be better from a transportation standpoint and also from a social development standpoint to build up the country as we penetrate it with the trolley line. Therefore the new town site at Monte Vista will receive its finishing touches, after the front doorway is started to progress.

"We will not make any prediction
at this time as to many details of which you have asked us, but on the final completion of the plans we will provide an ample sewer fund for the Mesnerger land and the trolley line
from Glendale through the Mesnerger's will be rebuilt into a standard, broad-gauge line, and we hope the people of Glendale will beat us to death if we don't give them good broad-gauge management also. We have been magnificently treated for all our shortcomings, whatever they were. We are not claiming that Glendale, Eagle Rock, Verdugo and Crescenta foothills are the most charming in Southern California because we are operating there, but we are operating in these districts because we love this region.
We have operated in and had the pick of the entire state in eight previous successful projects prior to Monte Vista, and while there are opportunities left in Glendale and its foothills
we are going to bring our Western Empire readers in large organized groups to this district.

We are telling our eastern folks who look to us for guidance, that if they get a foothold on a home-site in the Glendale region that they are near enough to Los Angeles to try their hand in the commercial whirl there,
and that, after being acclimated (in climate and experience) should they want to go to any other part of the state that they can always trade their Glendale property, at a premium, for anything in California.

And that's the truth—I assume.

Mrs. Frazar has recently brought from the East where she has been accustomed to hold large art exhibits,
her entire collection of hand-painted china and water colors besides many rare pieces of old china and furniture which she has been assured by her friends will prove of unusual interest to lovers of art. People of discriminating taste consider the quality, coloring and original conception of this artist's work to be superior, and her artistic temperament is markedly manifest in the arrangement of the beautiful pieces of art with which her studio
rooms are adorned.

Mrs. Frazar will be assisted in receiving visitors and serving tea by leading ladies of the valley and guests
may feel confident of being highly gratified with the attractive display
arranged for their inspection.
A general invitation is extended to all art lovers, especially those of Glendale, Tropic, Burbank and Eagle Rock.

THE WEST COAST MAGAZINE FOR NOVEMBER.

In the November issue the West Coast magazine commences a fight for the betterment of trade facilities and general relations between the United States and the Orient. That there is need for such warfare is ably shown in the course of two articles—one by Cyril H. Tribe, (who acted as secretary to the honorary commercial commission, representing the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, on its visit to China in 1910), entitled "The Orient's Open Door,"
and the other by Arthur R. Hinton, on "Justice for the Chinese." Both writers bring out strongly and forcibly the necessity for cementing our relations with the Far East, not only because of the benefit to be derived by ourselves,
as is demonstrated in "The Orient's Open Door," but also from the standpoint of right and wrong, as is shown in "Justice for the Chinese." These two treatments of an up-to-date question by two able western writers cannot fail to impress everyone with a feeling that something must be done
in this regard, and quickly at that.

The lead articles of the present
number, by Edwin Schallert, is devoted to a description of the Owens Valley. It bears the beautiful title of "The Valley of the Flowing Waters," and the story not only contains a large amount of information concerning this section of California, but the bare facts are rendered highly interesting and even beautiful, by the excellence of the description and word-painting.
James Main Dixon contributes an article of peculiar interest concerning the famous University of St. Andrews in Scotland, where at one time were collected a large number of brilliant intellectual men, who climbed the road
to fame in literature and kindred pursuits.

There is a very unusual story of a dog by the prominent Los Angeles banker, J. A. Graves. Its interest and pathos cannot fail to appeal to every one.

Elizabeth Baker Bohan's "Why Not a Public Defender?" is a question which requires an answer at the earliest possible moment, when handled in her forceful way.

meeting, each member it allowed one guest.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A party of young people from Los Angeles, Glendale and Tropico, gathered at the home of A. C. Oliver, 124
Howard street, on Tuesday evening,
November 21st, to celebrate Miss Eva's 19th birthday. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink and green.
The electric lights were hooded with pink and green crepe paper, and the chandeliers were festooned with smilax. About the rooms pink geraniums were arranged with massive banks of ferns, tea cream and cake were served. The evening was spent in games. At a late hour the happy party went to their homes leaving Miss Oliver the recipient of many beautiful presents.

I. O. O. F. TRIP TO SANTA MONICA.

Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, 51 members of Glendale lodge attended the district meeting at Santa Monica. A special car over the Pacific Electric carried the members there and back.
The evening was thoroughly enjoyed
by every one in the way of speeches, work and the banquet. There was food on the table to suit the taste of every individual and all those whose systems would not allow them to partake were generously supplied with sauerkraut and wieners. Returning the party arrived in Glendale shortly after 1 o'clock.

The Daughters of the American Revolution held a reciprocity luncheon
at Hotel Lankershim on Tuesday. Mrs.
W. H. Stilson, state regent, presided over the occasion. Mrs. Spottford Kin-cald of Berkeley, vice state regent,
was the honored guest of the day.
Following the luncheon the guests adjoined to the ball room where addresses were delivered by prominent members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, among others
was the interesting address dealing with the "Patriotism of Escholtzia Chapter," given by Mrs. Enock Pepper, regent of that chapter, who has numerous friends and acquaintances in Glendale. Mrs. Mary H. Gridley, regent of

POWER

The secret of the power in this Maxwell Special is its 41x51 long stroke, smooth running motor. Large valves, adjustable push rods, self-contained automatic oiling system; Stromberg carburetor, dual ignition with Splitdorf magneto and batteries, combine to produce more power and greater speed than will ever be needed. The power is there for emergencies. Gear shifting is reduced to a minimum, as this car takes the steepest hills with ease, with enough reserve force to cope with the unexpected. Other mechanical features include large clutch discs, full-floating rear axle, sliding gear transmission, drop-forged "I"-beam, front axle and Columbia Honeycomb type radiator.

RESOLUTION NO. 426.
A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE ORDERING THAT ALL THAT PORTION EXCEPT THE NORTH FOUR HUNDRED (400) FEET OF THAT CERTAIN ALLEY EXTENDING FROM THIRD STREET TO SECOND STREET IN BLOCK SEVEN (7) OF THE TOWN OF GLENDALE, BE CLOSED UP, VACATED AND ABANDONED AS COMTEMPLATED BY RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 408.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows: Section 1. That all that portion except the North four hundred (400) feet of that certain alley extending from Third Street to Second Street in Block Seven (7) of the Town of Glendale as per map recorded in Book 21, pages 89 and 90 of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at a point on the North line of Third Street distant 198.65 feet North 89 degrees 35 minutes 30 seconds West from the Southeast corner of Lot 27 of said Block 3; thence North 18 degrees 30 minutes East 95.98 feet; thence North 6 degrees 17 minutes 50 seconds West 62.10 feet; thence South 18 degrees 30 seconds West 161.29 feet to the North line of Third Street; thence South 89 degrees 35 minutes 30 minutes East 21.04 feet to the point of beginning.

Sec. 2. That the exterior boundary of the district of land affected by said work of improvement and to be assessed to pay the damages, costs and expenses thereof are hereby specified and declared as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the Southwest corner of Lot 26 of Block 3 as aforesaid; thence Northeasterly 204.75 feet to the most Northerly corner of Lot 20 of said Block 3; thence Easterly along the Northerly line of said lot to the most Easterly corner thereof; thence Easterly to the Northwest corner of Lot 29 of said Block 3; thence Southerly to a point on the North line of Third Street 147.73 feet Westerly from the Southeast corner of Lot 27 of said Block 3; thence Westerly along the North line of Third Street to the point of beginning, excepting therefrom any portion of any public street or alley which may be included within above mentioned assessment district.

Sec. 3. That the Street Superintendent of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to cause notice of the passage of this resolution to be posted at the places and in the manner required by law, and also, to cause a notice similar in substance to be published as required by law, in the GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, and thereupon and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect.

Adopted this 20th day of November 1911.

JOHN ROBERT WHITE, JR., President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

CITY OF GLENDALE.

I, G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale, do hereby certify that the foregoing resolution was duly adopted by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, and signed by the President of said Board at a regular meeting thereof held November 20th, 1911, by the following vote, to-wit: Ayes: Coker, Lane, Watson, White, Williams. Noes: None.

G. B. WOODBERRY, City Clerk of the City of Glendale.

TAXES.

Taxpayers are reminded that the first half of county taxes become delinquent on Monday next, the 27th after which a penalty of 15 per cent is added. The tax collector's office is now in the new Hall of Records Building, adjoining the court house, Los Angeles. Glendale City taxes, which approximate about one-half as much as the county tax, become delinquent on the last Monday in December.

DEATH OF EDWARD C. MERITT.

Mr. Edward C. Meritt, of 135 East Second Street, died at 11:30 Wednesday morning. Mr. Meritt has been in poor health for a year past, and has been rather worse than usual for the past ten days. The funeral services will be held at his late residence Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Chapter L. P. E. O. society met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Lee on Cedar street. The topic of the day was Household Economics and the afternoon was beyond doubt one of the pleasantest ever enjoyed by the chapter.

The "DD" bunch had a merry time at the Mason Wednesday night. Seven days furnished the laugh. Those composing the party were Mr. and Mrs. Truscott, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hunchberger, Mr. and Mrs. Dornay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howe and Mr. and Mrs. Tower.

Mrs. E. U. Emery and Mrs. C. D. Lusby attended the performance of "The Land of Heart's Desire," a play which was given on Wednesday by the Shakespeare Club of the University of Southern California. Owen Emery of Kenwood street, Glendale, appeared in the cast in a character role.

The Fraternal Brotherhood initiated a class of over twenty at its regular meeting in K. of P. Hall last Friday evening. There was a large attendance of members of the order. After lodge meeting the doors were thrown open to few invited guests, and dancing was indulged in until midnight. Another class will be initiated this week.

The Myosotis Whist Club convened Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fish on Maryland. Miss May Fanest was awarded lady's first prize and Mr. V. L. Fish, gentleman's first prize. A very jolly evening was enjoyed by one and all. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Menly of West Third street.

The convention of the Los Angeles District of Federated Clubs held in Ventura from the 16th to the 18th, was full of interest and very well attended. The Tuesday Afternoon Club was represented by Dr. Jessie A. Russell, who is also district chairman of civics, and by Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, alternate for Mrs. A. W. Tower, president, who was unable to attend. Mrs. Mary H. Gridley, Mrs. Charles Shattuck and Mrs. P. S. McNutt were Glendale ladies representing the Friday Morning Club.

Bazaar and Dinner

The bazaar and chicken pie dinner to be given by the ladies of the Christian Church, Friday of this week, in Mr. Shropshire's office, Fourth and Glendale avenues. The dinner served at noon and at 5 o'clock will consist of chicken pie, gravy, mashed potatoes, pickles, baked beans, salad, pumpkin or apple pie, coffee or tea, all for 35c.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

In all past history no change was made or advance step taken without encountering fierce and unreasonable opposition, and today history is but repeating itself. Long-established wrongs die hard, but die they must, so we must not be surprised at the desperation of our opponents; for it is really an encouraging sign. The quarry that is being cornered is the quarry that will fight. Fierce, bitter accusations and unreasonable assertions, such as appeared in your issue of Nov. 10th, from the pen of a professed teacher and leader of the people, will have a much different effect on the minds of intelligent American citizens than was intended. The father is a back number to the extent of a quarter of a century. Twenty-five years or so ago such wild and uncalled for rantings had to be met and answered because the masses of the people did not understand the principles of Socialism as they do today, but as the attack comes from a man who arrogates to himself the prerogative of being a dispenser of divine wisdom we will answer him from the recent utterances of one of the leaders of his own church, Hon. Charles Russell, noted Catholic leader. He declared there is no reason why Catholics should attack Socialism on religious grounds. For the present evils of society the Socialists are the only ones to propose a remedy. The speech was delivered before the annual congress of the Catholic young men's society of Great Britain. He says the origin of the Socialist movement is to be found in the present deplorable and appalling state of society. He then goes on to state these conditions and says the race is deteriorating and we have to admit that out of a population of 45,000,000, twelve millions are on the verge of starvation and the greater part of the owners of great wealth do nothing to remedy the evil conditions of the poor. The remedy is upon anybody who denounces Socialism to suggest an alternative, but up to the present moment Socialism alone holds the field. There is nothing contrary to Christianity in the propositions of Socialism. Further on he says the leading Socialist parties do not advocate but are strongly opposed to appropriation without compensation, but even supposing that Socialism did mean appropriation without compensation, which it does not, I am tempted to ask, is it therefore un-Christian or anti-Catholic. It is admitted that the state has a right to tax property of the subject, but does not a right to tax include necessarily a right to take if it should be for the public good that such property should be taken?

Rev. Charles F. Aked of San Francisco says: "I see in this great movement of the masses an expression of the new spiritual life of the world which refuses to be satisfied with less than human solidarity and neutral justice among men."

Socialism is an economic question, and the father says "it ignores God," as it acts as if God had no interest in the capital and labor question; Socialism is therefore against Christ. Let us see what there is in this logic. The tariff question is an economic question and the Republican party ignores God because it acts as if He had no interest in the tariff question.

Christ said He that is not with me is against me. The Republican party is therefore against Christ and the father supports the Republican party, and would therefore give out the impression that all Catholics are opposed to Socialism, which is far from the truth, as they comprise part of his own congregation. "The poor were helped before Socialism." In this you are right, for did not Dives permit Lazarus to eat with his dogs the crumbs that fell from his table, and the poor, the producers of all wealth, have been getting the crumbs ever since. Your brand of help is an insult to God and man. You wish to continue to rob the laboring class of four-fifths of their product (see government reports), and then, through charity balls and church raffles deal out a few bitter crumbs and call it charity. We are not living in the dark ages and can you not read the signs of the times that are being daily flashed from every quarter of the globe. Superstition and oppression is being laid aside like an old garment and the peoples of the earth are waking up to a realization of the demands of justice and the change is inevitable, as only justice can bring peace and good will among men.

R. GILHOUSEN.

Tropico, Nov. 12, 1911.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

Dear Sir: In your issue of Nov. 10th, your correspondent, the Rev. James S. O'Neill, pastor, asks this question: "Why are Catholics opposed to Socialism?" The question presupposes all Catholics. Well, well! Socialism is a God-denying, Christ-despising, law-defying thief and traitor! Let us see. All religions have this in common that they strive for the salvation of suffering humanity and to lead it up to the good, the beautiful, the righteous and the divine.

Socialism strives for the very same end, but not in a fantastic way, not by praying and fasting, wishing and sighing, but in a manner positive and active, real and true, by social organization of manual and mental work. It is the new, the true religion. The reverend gentleman with the rest of our opponents, the scribes and Pharisees of the old gospel, stands and falls with the dogma of his faith, while those who stand on the ground of science submit their judgment to the crucible of facts. They are the followers of the new gospel, Socialists. The struggle between faith and science, the antagonism between the old and new gospel, dates by no means from the days of Socialism. It goes back to the ancient world, to the beginning of scientific research, then it revives with the middle ages and grows more and more with the approach of the present era where it finds its embodiment in our leaders of scientific thought, though it reaches its full development in the modern labor movement. God-defying, indeed! Does the reverend pastor forget that the love taught by Christ and preached by apostles and church fathers, the love which gave away the second coat, is no more the love practiced in the church today, the many-coated love under the overcoat which strips the poor to the skin, of course, rightfully Christ-defying, bah!

It advocates robbery! Your correspondent seems to be ignorant of the fact that labor when applied to nature, which is obviously nobody's property, is the creator of all capital and rent and profit. That the division of labor as practiced to day is not carried out in a systematic manner, but that is more a matter of chance, and that the division of the produce defies all justice and humanity and therefore Socialism draws this practical conclusion that it is in the interest of the community to abolish private ownership of the soil, and to transfer all the means of production created by labor, into the possession of the community, which will share out the duties and the rights, the labor and the produce of labor, in an equitable and democratic way among all of its members, according to social needs and irrespective of individual whims.

The question as to the time, means and methods of transformation must be submitted to our understanding, before we can rationally think the matter out. Constant propaganda, the removal of prejudices of the public, untiring criticism, will effect much more than anything else the future state of society. The reorganization of society (of economics) is a big problem and can not be solved by one group of men, but by history, by social evolution.

Your correspondent surely has not studied socialism at all. Every one of his assertions is false. He can not prove them; his attack on socialism is uncalled for and his periclit attempts to injure, only make the movement more prominent and stronger and I sincerely hope he won't desert his post, but stay with his guns and keep the good work going.

E. FRAM.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY GLENDALE BRANCH OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY.

Whereas, Rev. Father O'Neill in the issue of Nov. 10th of the GLENDALE NEWS, made some statements in regard to Socialism that show an utter lack of knowledge of its principles; and

Whereas, More than two months ago the Rev. Alexander Irvine, for seven years pastor of the Church of the Ascension in New York City, lectured in Glendale telling why he is a Socialist, and at the close of the lecture left a challenge to any minister, lawyer or any other person in Glendale to debate with him the question, "Resolved, That Socialism is the greatest religious movement in the world today," and

Whereas, said challenge has not been accepted up to this time; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Glendale Branch of the Socialist party in meeting assembled, ask the Rev. Father O'Neill to meet a representative of our party in debate upon the principles of Socialism to the end that Rev. Mr. O'Neill may be given an opportunity to prove his statements and show us wherein we are wrong.

The Glendale local agrees to pay for any available hall in Glendale that he may select.

Eskimos Believe.

Eskimos believe that earth and air are filled with spirits. The one drags men into the earth by the feet, from which they never emerge, the other strikes men dead, leaving no mark. They often stop and listen and say that Tuna of the wind is passing by, imagining that the air is full of voices.

An Even Thing.

Mistress-Bridget, how long would you stay with me if I couldn't pay you? Maid—As long as you'd keep me if I couldn't cook, mum.—Harper's Bazar.

END OF THE WORLD IS A FALSE THEORY

"The Earth Abideth Forever," Say Scriptures.

Symbolic, Not Literal, Fire Is Imminent.

Pastor Russell Says Our Lord Said Nothing About the End of the Earth, Simply the End of the World—London Tabernacle Crowded.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Oct. 15.—LONDON TABERNACLE, Lancaster Gate W., was crowded to day to hear Pastor Russell. He spoke of mistaken notions re the end of the world. He assured his audience that "the earth abideth forever," and claimed that errors were built upon misinterpretations of Scripture. His text was Revelation x, 6, 7. "And the angel swore . . . that the time should be no longer (delayed)."

Pastor Russell declared that his text has no reference to the end of time—that time would never end, must always endure. The word delayed should have been added by the translators to catch the proper thought. The time mentioned would no longer be delayed. The fulfillment of delayed promises would be accomplished.

These views in recent years have been most pronouncedly voiced by Christian brethren styled Adventists, but really are to be found in nearly all the creeds of Christendom. The erroneous theory has been further bolstered up by the misinterpretations of our Lord's words translated the end of the world. Our Lord said nothing about the end of the earth, or; what He did mention was the end of the age or aeon in which we live. Various aeons or ages have followed one another, each ending in turn and giving place to another. So the present aeon or age, we believe, will soon give place to a better aeon or age—the aeon or age in which sin and death have reigned will give place to an aeon or age in which Christ and His Church will reign triumphant.

Heavens and Earth on Fire

Those who have not learned that the Bible frequently uses language in a symbolic manner may be excused for taking literally some of St. Peter's statements respecting the burning of the heavens and the earth. A critical study shows that the Apostle could not have referred to the literal earth and the literal heavens as being consumed. He used the term earth symbolically, as representing society, of which the mountains or kingdoms are the backbone. Just as he used the word heavens to represent the ecclesiastical powers which are even now rolling together as a scroll from the two ends—the one Protestant, the other Catholic. The social conflagration is being generally feared.

Although many expect the social conflagration, not many yet fear the religious blaze predicted by the Apostle. It surely will come; not a jot or tittle will fail. The religious "heavens" and the social "earth" will catch fire together. After the great conflagration, upon the ashes of human institutions, Messiah will establish the Kingdom of glory and blessing in the interests of our poor, dying race. The "new heavens" will be the new ecclesiastical power—the Church in glory. The "new earth" will be the new social arrangement which Messiah will inaugurate.

Some of the Difficulty

The early Church hoped, in harmony with the Apostolic teachings, for Messiah's Kingdom to be established and for the resulting "times of restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all the holy Prophets since the world began."—Acts iii, 19-21.

After the Apostles fell asleep and the Kingdom still delayed, false doctrines crept into the Church, amongst others the theory that Christ's Kingdom was not to be waited for—that it came at Pentecost and the Apostles did not know of it; that it must conquer its way to the Throne of earth—that converts must be made even though the assistance of inquisitorial tortments were necessary to effect this.

False Kingdoms of God

When the Protestant Reformation renounced Catholicism and denounced it as Anti-Christ it proceeded, nevertheless, along the same lines. Various Protestant Churches did their best to fill the place which Papacy claimed and to get earthly kingdoms to support their claims to spiritual domination. Thus the Czar of Russia is the Head of the Greek Church, Emperor William is the Head of the Lutheran system, King George is Head of the Church of England, theoretically. We may be sure, however, that none of these talented men believe for a moment that they are reigning as for and instead of Messiah.

None of these are Kingdoms of Christ, nor could all of them together, called "Christendom," hope ever to bring to pass the glorious things promised of Messiah's Empire—that "every knee shall bow and every tongue confess to the glory of God." Indeed, it is becoming more widely known daily that heathendom, as well as Christendom, is doubling in population each century.

Teaching the Teacher.

The teacher of the first grade in the district school in the cattle country had much trouble with the six-year-old boy who was the sole member of that grade. The boy is the son of a cattleman. After a week or so of refusal to learn the alphabet the teacher said: "Johnny, if you do not learn your letters you never will know anything."

"Shucks!" replied Johnny. "I know more'n you do."

"Why, Johnny, what do you mean by such talk?" gasped the teacher. "I never heard of such impudence."

Johnny bolted for the blackboard and drew half a dozen cattle brands—the Flying D, the Lazy B, the Triang Dot, the Lazy Crutch, the Bar 7 and some others.

"What's them?" he asked.

The teacher couldn't guess.

"Well," said Johnny, "don't you talk to me no more about them things you call letters when you can't tell cattle brands apart."—Saturday Evening Post.

The World's Worst Penman.

Most remarkable among execrable writers was John Bell, the barrister of whom Lord Eldon said to the prince regent that he was the ablest equity lawyer of his time, though he could "neither read, write, walk nor talk." Bell was a cripple, and his Westmorland accent combined with his stammer to make his speech unintelligible. The character of his writings appears from his own statement that he had three styles, one of which he could read, but his clerk could not, while the second was intelligible to his clerk, but not to himself, and the third baffled both of them. Something similar is told of Henry Ward Beecher, whose daughter, acting as his copyist, had three chief rules—that no dotted letter of his was meant for an "i," that no crossed letter stood for a "t," and that no capital letter ever began a sentence.—London Chronicle.

Drunkness in China.

As regards the sobriety of the Chinese there seems to be a difference of opinion, and it is a question upon which writers disagree, but it seems to be the general opinion that very few intoxicated men or women are seen upon the streets. What drinking is done—and from all accounts there must be considerable—carried on within doors. Habitual drunkenness is punished by banishment and servitude, but occasional intoxication is only a matter of comment, and the result is the notifying a person on the street in which he lives that so and so is drunk, and if the subject is not boisterous the affair is let drop. But, on the other hand, if he is noisy and shows a disposition to quarrel and fight he is at once taken to his rooms and compelled to remain there until the effect of the liquor has worn away.—New York Sun.

Concerning Freshmen.

James, aged five, and Sarah, aged seven, were the children of a professor and took a great interest at the beginning of the college year in the class collisions which they daily witnessed on the campus. They discussed the merits of the case from every side. James usually preferred the freshmen, while Sarah always sided with their enemies.

One afternoon James was trotting across the campus, holding tightly to his father's hand. His little face was quite serious, and he kept looking behind him more or less fearfully. His father, deep in meditation, was not noticing until finally a small voice said: "Father, they wouldn't mistake a little boy for a freshman, would they?"—Woman's Home Companion.

Antimilitarism in Germany.

At Strassburg I saw a general leave barracks. The sentries stood at attention, then when he had passed on they both at the same instant mimicked his gait, which was peculiar, behind his back—sentries, mind you! I have also seen street boys in Germany mock the parades of troops when an officer passed by, and the troops grinned broadly and the officer saw, but said naught. Such antimilitarism is unthinkable in France.—London Globe.

He Made the Sale.

"Yes, the property is cheap enough. Why do you want to sell it?" "You won't give me any?"

"No." "Well, sir, it's because I'm the only man in this neighborhood that doesn't move in high society, and I'm lonesome."—Chicago Tribune.

Naval Salutes.

Originally a town or a warship fired off its guns on the approach of friendly strangers to show that they had such faith in the visitors' peaceful intentions they didn't think it necessary to keep their guns loaded. Hence the naval salute.

Old Fashioned.

"What's the trouble with you and your fiancée? Is he jealous?" "Well, he isn't exactly jealous, but he's what you might call old fashioned. He doesn't want me to be engaged to anybody else."—Washington Herald.

Marked Resemblance.

"Grace, is that sweetheart of yours an auctioneer?" "No, father. Why?" "Because he keeps on saying he's going—going—going, but he hasn't gone yet!"

Good Sense.

Good sense is as different from genius as perception is from invention; yet, though distinct qualities, they frequently subsist together.

Masses of Mussels.

The mussel's natural home is at the bottom of the sea, never in very deep water and yet deep enough to be nearly always covered at any state of the tide. For preference it likes a bed of sand or smooth, fine gravel. To this bed it attaches itself by the ligature-like growth on the shell known as the byssus, and thus, standing on end with its foot to the bottom of the sea, it forms itself in a dense mass so closely packed together that not an inch of the sea floor is visible. As new ones come they do not extend the ground space occupied, but range themselves one on top of another in layers, all firmly fixed together by a living cord of connection. In this position they are exposed to many dangers. A heavy storm may break the mass to pieces and disperse its constituents far and wide. An alteration of the tidal current may sweep a sand avalanche upon them and bring about their end by suffocation. Even if they escape these dangers it is certain that bottom layers will be crushed out of existence.

The Vegetable Lamb.

One of the most remarkable natural fetishes in the world is the Chinese kou-chi, called by some people "the vegetable lamb." It is regarded by the natives of China as something supernatural. They believe it to be part vegetable and part animal. The plant certainly bears a resemblance to an animal, although it might be taken for a pig as readily as a lamb. Kou-chi is composed principally of the plant known as rhizome and springs from seed. After attaining its full height roots and tendrils spring from the fiber and grow downward until they enter the earth. It is this peculiar formation which has caused it to be regarded with so much awe. The Chinese claim that after it has reached its full size it ceases to be vegetable and turns animal, feeding upon the tender shoots of plants which grow near it.—Wairapa Times.

A Submerged Crater.

During the explosion of the volcano of Krakatoa, in the strait of Sunda, in 1883, a large part of the island of Krakatoa was blown away, and the sea took its place. Not long afterward measurements were made of the shape and depth of the cavity left covered with water at the northern end of the disrupted island. The results were published by Dr. Verbeek in 1886. Later Dr. Von Bemmelen has remeasured the submerged basin formed by the explosion, and he finds that within the partial ring formed by the three remaining islands of the Krakatoa group there is a central basin, oval in shape and with a fairly level floor, having a depth over a considerable area of 820 feet. Comparison with the former measures indicates that there has been no change in the sea floor during the intervening years. There is no sign of volcanic activity.

Preserving Spiders' Webs.

Naturalists employ an ingenious method of preserving all kinds of spiders' webs. The webs are first sprayed with an atomizer with a thin solution of artists' shellac, and then, should they be of the ordinary geometric form, they are pressed carefully against a glass plate, the supporting strands at the same time being severed. After the shellac solution has dried the plates carrying the webs can be stored away in a cabinet. Even dome shaped webs may be preserved in their original form by spraying them with shellac and then allowing them to dry before removal from their supports. Many spiders' webs are very beautiful, and all are characteristic of the species to which they belong, so that from a scientific standpoint their permanent preservation is very desirable.

How Flying Fish Fly.

The popular notion that flying fish beat their "wings" is a mistake, if we are to rely upon the results of studies of these fish made by no less an authority than Captain Barrett Hamilton. It appears that the wings are not true organs of flight, but rather play the part of a parachute or an aeroplane. The whole motive power is supplied by the tail, which acts as a propeller, and the vibration or quivering of the wings in the air currents and their occasional shift of inclination are not phenomena connected with the propulsion of the fish in its aerial flight.

Deer in Scotland.

The deer are probably the safest crop in Scotland. Oats may perish and never ripen by reason of too early frosts and long continued wet. Grouse may have disease and cease to count on any moor for several years. Sheep are generally voted of less value than grouse. But deer are very rarely affected by the seasons in such a way as to touch the sport and the letting value of forests.—Illustrated Sporting News.

Where Now?

The Family Friend—My dear, I dare say you find comfort in the thought that you made your husband happy while he lived. The Widow not realizing the double meaning of her words—Yes, indeed. Poor Jack was in heaven until he died.—London Sketch.

Tact.

"How shall I close this letter to Slow-pay—yours truly or respectfully?" "Say 'respectfully,' but add, in parentheses, 'for the last time.'"—File-gendse Blatter.

Great men should think of opportunity and not of time. Time is the excuse of feeble minded and puzzled spirits.—Darsell.

Tropico and Glendale are practically one community joining Los Angeles City on the north; the former five and the latter six miles in a direct line from the Court House in Los Angeles. Glendale is an incorporated city of the sixth class with about 2700 population. Pacific Electric cars leave Sixth street depot half hourly. Eagle Rock cars leaving Twelfth and Broadway every half hour, connecting at Eagle Rock with car for Glendale. Rapidly increasing in population and importance. Schools, churches, fraternal societies, business establishments and all the accessories of an up-to-date suburban community.

THE WINNER.

Fortune may have favorites, Fame her petted sons; Pleasure's smiles may always fall upon some certain ones; but the angels will the worth of the plucky one attest who 'mid Fortune's fiercest frowns always does his best.

There are mighty tasks to do all along the way. Life is not a pleasure ground where there is naught but play. He who does the world's great work must labor with a zest and though humble be his part always does his best.

Some wear Pleasure's roses fair; some the cruel thorn. Some bask ever in the light—some to darkness born. But the angels will the worth of the plucky one attest, who 'mid Fortune's fiercest frowns always does his best.

Old Time Trade Signs.
On nearly all street corners even in the largest metropolises of Europe may be found relics of the middle ages and of the earliest times. Take, for instance, the wooden image of a shoe, which every cobbler hangs out above his door. It goes back for its origin to the Rome of the pre-Christian era. In the ruins of the lava buried cities of Herculaneum and Pompeii many shop signs of stone and terra cotta have been discovered, the forerunners of those that for centuries adorned the highways not only of Europe, but of the new world. Among them was the emblem of the shoemaker's trade, a cupid carrying a dainty pair of women's shoes. But the Romans did not stop there. They used the image of a goat to indicate the dairies, that of a mule driving a mill to point out the bakers' shops and a bush of evergreen to direct the thirsty traveler to a tavern. This particular sign gave rise to the English proverb, "Good wine needs no bush."

The View From an Aeroplane.
It is a great surprise to the uninitiated to see how uniform the surface of the earth appears when viewed from a great altitude. Although individual objects are hard to identify, such things as rivers, lakes and railroads are easily recognized by their contour, direction or some slight individuality or characteristic which can readily be shown upon a map, especially if the maps are made or corrected by men who fly above the earth and get an accurate and literal bird's-eye view of its surface. Objects which seem to loom up with the greatest clearness to one standing on the surface of the earth appear very different and quite insignificant when viewed from above, while a patch of colored soil which would not be noticed at all by a person standing on the ground is a most valuable landmark to the air sailor. — Columbian Magazine.

Worse Than a Galley Slave's Life.
Less than a century back life at Eton appears to have been even harder than at Christ's hospital. An old Etonian who left the school in 1834 describes his experience there as "worse than that of many inmates of a workhouse or a jail. To get up at 5 o'clock on freezing winter mornings; to sweep their own floors and make their own beds; to go two by two to the pump for a scanty wash; to eat no mouthful of food until 9 o'clock in the morning; to live on an endless round of mutton, potatoes and beer, none of them too plentiful or too good; to sleep in a dismal cell without chair or table—such was the lot of boys whose parents could not pay for a private room. Some of these underwent privations that might have broken down a cabin boy and would be thought inhuman if inflicted on a galley slave." — London Spectator.

Boxing the Ears.
"Don't box a naughty child's ears. Don't allow any provocation to tempt you to strike a child on the head," is the injunction contained in an article on skulls issued by the International hygiene exposition at Dresden. Corporal punishment of any kind, says the writer, is wrong, but when the head is the point of contact between the angry parent and the child the former may easily become a murderer. In a collection of skulls at the exposition lent by the Wurzburg university there are many of children as well as adults which show that the abnormally thin skull is not unusually found, even in otherwise normal human beings, and the causes of death, which are stated on cards attached to the skulls, are intended to serve as warnings to parents, teachers and guardians.

How Water Freezes.
It used to puzzle all thinking people why ponds and rivers do not freeze beyond a certain depth. This depends on a most curious fact—namely, that water is at its heaviest when it reaches 40 degrees F.—that is, 8 degrees above freezing point. On a frosty night as each top layer of water falls to 40 degrees it sinks to the bottom. Therefore the whole pond has to drop to 40 degrees before any of it can freeze. At last it is all cooled to this point, and then ice begins to form. But ice is a very bad conductor of heat. Therefore it shuts off the freezing air from the big body of comparatively warm water underneath. The thicker it gets the more perfectly does it act as a great coat, and that is why even the Arctic ocean never freezes beyond a few feet in thickness.

The Japanese Empire.
The Japanese empire proper is made up of four large islands, Nippon, Shikoku, Kyushu and Yeddo and about 3,800 small ones, many of them too small and rocky for habitation. In area the empire is very nearly the same as the state of California, about 156,000 square miles. It has a population of between 45,000,000 and 50,000,000, the larger part of it being engaged in agriculture and fishing. The arable land of the whole empire, not including Formosa or Korea, is about 9,000,000 acres, or just about that of the state of New York. — New York American.

Even Up.
"Do you think it is ever going to clear up?" said the talkative man on the front platform.
"I do, sir," gruffly replied the man addressed.
"And as I'm a lawyer that opinion will cost you a fee."
"My friend," returned the first man promptly, "your liver is out of order. Better take a pill. And as I'm a doctor that squares us." — Boston Transcript.

The Real Test.
"I shall make it a rule," said the young man who is learning politics, "never to go back on my friends."
"An excellent rule," replied Senator Sorghum, "but the real test of the game is to keep your friends from going back on you." — Washington Star.

Dirty Windows.
A German professor has ascertained that in industrial cities windows which have not been washed for ten days exclude from 35 to 48 per cent of the light. If not washed for four weeks they may exclude as much as 80 per cent of the light.

Well Defined.
"Pa, is a vessel a boat?"
"Er—yes, you may call it that."
"Well, what kind of a boat is a blood vessel?"
"A lifeboat."

My Liberty Leaves Off Where the Rights of Another Begin.
Victor Hugo.

Jumping Coccins.
Many visitors to the southwestern states and Mexico have amused themselves by watching the queer motions of "jumping beans," the seed vessels of a plant, each of which contain the pupa of an insect whose spasmodic movements cause the bean to hop and roll about.

More remarkable are the "jumping coccins" found in South Africa.
The cocoon is formed by the mother insect and is very hard. The pupa when ready to emerge must cut its way out. The front of its head has a sharp, chisel-like edge, and by driving this against the inside of the shell it gradually makes a hole. The violent motions of the pupa within cause the cocoon to leap so that one has been seen to spring out of a small glass tumbler. — St. Louis Republic.

Saved Storage Charges.
Young men with meager salaries evolve financial makeshifts abhorrent to the moral and physical sensibilities of their opulent elders. Said one young sprig of boarding house gentility to another who expected to seek new quarters upon his return from a two months' trip on the road:
"What are you going to do with all this personal truck that is cluttering up your room? It will cost you anyhow a dollar a month for storage."
"Not the way I am working things," said the man who was going away.
"I have purposely refrained from paying board for four weeks, and the landlady will hold my stuff. Of course I shall square up when I come back and get it again, and in the meantime she will give it free storage." — New York Times.

Lawyers on a Strike.
Over 300 years ago one of the most unusual strikes ever recorded took place in Paris, when all the lawyers walked out, so to speak. A law or ordinance was issued and promulgated by the French king Henry III. ordering all lawyers to sign their pleadings and to state the amount they were charging their clients for their services. This was done so that the lawyers could be properly and sufficiently taxed on their income. The lawyers objected, and the strike, causing an entire stay of judicial proceedings, followed. Peace was restored by the nonenforcement of the ordinance, though it was not repealed.

The Better Job.
The Inquisitive Guest—I suppose, now, you would like to get a job in a restaurant patronized by millionaires where you'd get big tips. The Obsequious Waiter—No, sir. I'd rather have a job in a restaurant where fourtushers on $12 a week salaries bring the girls they are trying to make a hit with. — Toledo Blade.

Work and Worry.
"Worry wears out more people than work does," said the ready-made philosopher.
"Of course it does," replied Mr. Growcher, "for the simple reason that so many of us would rather put in our time worrying about work than doing it." — Washington Star.

Violent Language.
First Deaf Mute—So when he heard the report he got furious about it. Second Deaf Mute—Furious? Why, he was so mad that the words he used almost blistered his fingers. — Exchange.

Curious.
Mayme—Sure I used to go with him. Did you tell him I was going to be married? Grace—I sure did. Mayme—Did he ask how soon? Grace—No; he asked how long. — Toledo Blade.

My liberty leaves off where the rights of another begin.
Victor Hugo.

TROPICO

A dinner was given by the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church in the church parlors last Friday evening.

Miss Blanche Davenport of Glendale avenue passed the week end with friends and relatives in Riverside.

The holiday vacations at the Tropico grammar school will occur between December 15th and January 2.

John F. Shiel arrived in Tropico the early part of the week and is passing several weeks with his parents on West Park avenue.

More than three hundred woman voters of this city have registered at the Tropico city hall. Who said the women don't want to vote.

The subjects at the Tropico Presbyterian church next Sunday will be as follows: morning, "Power of Optimism;" evening, "Love that is not blind."

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Martin, formerly of San Pedro, have located with their families in this city, where Mr. Martin has secured employment with the Tropico market.

Mr. Smith of the Tropico Mercantile company, has just concluded the rearranging of central portion of his store, adding greatly to the appearance of the establishment.

Mrs. C. C. Chandler is quite ill at her home on Cypress street. Mrs. Chandler has been ailing for some time, but not until this week did her illness become real serious.

A choir of juvenile singers is being organized to furnish music for the Tropico Presbyterian church. It is proposed to support the singing by a small orchestra. The work is being supervised by Mrs. E. S. Ayers of West Park avenue.

Mrs. Dwight Griswold has been selected as chairman of the committee on resolutions at the recent district convention of woman's clubs held in Ventura recently. Mrs. Griswold is a member of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club and attended the convention as delegate from that organization.

Attorney H. G. Pettit has been selected as secretary of the Anti-Consolidation campaign committee. It will be the work of Mr. Pettit to formulate arguments in favor of Tropico remaining as she now is rather than join with either Glendale or Los Angeles. Several arguments presented by Mr. Pettit appeared in the Inter-Urban Sentinel this week.

The morning subject for the preaching service at the Tropico Methodist church next Sunday morning will be "Co-operating with God;" evening subject, "Faith a Necessity." S. W. Carnes, pastor of the church, will preach at both services. There will be special music by the choir and a special invitation is extended to all to attend.

The arguments presented by Editor Burch of the Interurban Sentinel in last week's edition were indeed forceful (?). We would like to again remind Mr. Burch that Glendale is only responsible, as far as this election is concerned, to the calling of the election. The Glendale people had nothing whatever to do with the gathering of the names on the petition or the presenting of the petition. In fact, they had nothing to do with the affair until the petition was presented to the Glendale trustees.

TROPICO RESIDENT INJURED.

R. S. Robinson, proprietor of a plumbing establishment of this city, was severely injured at the corner of Cypress street and Brand boulevard last Monday noon while attempting to cross the Pacific Electric tracks. Robinson was traveling east of Cypress and as the trees grow thick along either side of that street he was unable to see the oncoming car until he was almost on the track, the car which struck his machine going north. The auto was almost wrecked and Mr. Robinson very fortunately escaped from being killed instantly.

The machine was dragged to one side of the track and the injured young man was taken to Dr. Tholen's office, where he was given medical treatment and afterward taken to his home on Blanche avenue. At last reports the victim was doing nicely.

ARE IMPROVING ROAD.

Starting at a point about a hundred yards south of the Pacific Electric tracks the San Fernando road has been plowed up for a distance of some thing like a mile and a half—the first work to be done on the improving of the good roads system in this section. There are several short stretches in the distance to be improved that have not been cut up, it being believed that these short stretches are in a fair condition and will last for some time to come without further work. It is understood that the San Fernando road between this place and Burbank will be improved within a short time. This road in the region of West Glendale is badly cut up into deep ridges and the repair men cannot begin this work too soon.

As a sample of what good roads should be like might be mentioned the work almost completed by the city of Los Angeles on the San Fernando road within the city limits of the Angel City. The foundation for this road is about a foot of solid rock and cement, while the surface six inches is of asphalt.

WEST GLENDALE

Mr. J. W. Everett has sold his home on Hawthorne street.

Wm. Reithmeyer and wife who recently sold their Glendale property, have moved to Los Angeles.

The house built by Mr. Reagan at Seventh and Central, has been sold and parties whose names have not been ascertained, have moved in.

CECIL E. SHAVER, Proprietor

Mrs. Wm. R. Glover, 1526 Ivy street, enjoyed a delightful visit from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Engles of Los Angeles, over Sunday. Master Rene Glover arrived on Monday.

Parties from Indianapolis have bought three lots on the south side of Fifth street between Columbus and Pacific, upon which they will probably make improvements.

P. H. Yant and wife of Indianapolis who are stopping in Los Angeles for a few months, visited friends in Glendale Sunday and will probably invest in this vicinity.

Earl Potter of Corona was the guest of Ferris C. Brown last Sunday. Mr. Potter is the manager of the Corona Theater, also electrical inspector for that city, being an electrician of unusual ability.

The Parent-Teacher Association met as usual Thursday afternoon, Nov. 16, at the West Glendale school. A large number of mothers were present and there was a short but very good program and refreshments and some very interesting topics talked over. The picture, this month, fell to the lot of Miss Erickson's room.

CASA VERDUGO

J. T. Cooper of Arden avenue who has been ill for two weeks past, has been taken to a Los Angeles hospital.

A change in the management of the La Ramada restaurant takes place on the first of the month. Mr. Brabo returning to Santa Barbara.

The same lesson will be repeated, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the residence of Mrs. J. E. Paul, 533 Orange street, Dec. 1, 1911, at 2:30 p. m.

The Civics Association meets at Mrs. C. E. Allison's, Monday evening next, at her residence on Fairview street. The last meeting was at Mrs. J. P. Green's.

At Sow's Casa Verdugo great preparations are being made for a Thanksgiving dinner. A half dozen fine bronze turkeys are in the lock-up being stuffed alive for the occasion.

The second lesson at Casa Verdugo in the simple science of politics will be given at the residence of Mrs. Sledge Dell, 800 North Louise street, next Monday evening, Nov. 27, at 7:45.

The Ladies' Aid of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church will hold a bazaar on the afternoon and evening of Friday, December 8th, in the church building, corner Central avenue and Fairview street.

F. E. Dunnivant, who has been spending some weeks past with Harry Schnier, has returned to Cleveland, O., and will soon leave for Argentine, South America, where he is interested in the development of oil property.

Mrs. Dell has registered in all 110 woman voters, of whom four were 22 and four 21 years of age. Miss Ethel Land, senior class of the Normal, celebrator her 21st birthday by registering. They averaged about 38 years and none showed any hesitancy about disclosing their age.

"ERMINIE" AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"Erminie," the great comic opera, will be the offering of Ferris Hartman and his excellent singing and dancing company for Thanksgiving week, starting Sunday with the matinee. Contrary to the rule, Mr. Hartman will give four matinees of "Erminie," the opening performance, the bargain matinee on Tuesday and a special holiday matinee on Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 30, and the final regular matinee on Saturday. "Erminie" is probably the most famous light opera of the past quarter century, not even excepting "The Merry Widow." The fame of more than one great star is based largely upon his or her appearance in an "Erminie" cast. Francis Wilson appeared as the lover of the two brigands for nine seasons and made a fortune as a result. The Carltons, Thomas Q. Seabrook, Lillian Russell, Pauline Hall and numerous others reached the pinnacle of fame via "Erminie." Although "Erminie" has been sung by all the greatest, the opera has never before been presented in Los Angeles, and while it is well known to everybody practically, there are many who have yet to experience the pleasure of an "Erminie" performance. During the three years' run of "Erminie" at the Casino theater in New York, the beautiful music became as familiar to people as "The Merry Widow Waltz." The story concerns the adventures of Robert Macaire, a gentlemanly brigand and his less gentlemanly associate, Cadeaux. It was as Cadeaux that Francis Wilson made millions laugh. It is a great part which will give Mr. Hartman all the opportunity for funmaking that he desires. The production will be gorgeous in all details.

"Anything from Pig Pen to Palace"

The SPIRIT OF PROGRESS is nowhere more evident than in the demand for better built houses. The law prohibits the erection of the old flimsily built and dangerous houses. If you are to have a good building you must employ good building materials. As we handle only those of proven merit it is far safer for you to have us fill your order. Where only the good is sold there's no danger of getting the bad.

The Marlin Model 20 REPEATING RIFLE

You can buy no better gun for target work and all small game up to 200 yards.

Without change of mechanism it handles .22 short, long or long-rifle cartridges perfectly. The deep Ballard rifling develops maximum power and accuracy and adds years to the life of rifles.

The solid top is protection from defective cartridges—prevents powder and gas from being blown back. The side ejection never lets spent shells spoil your hand and allows quick, accurate repeat shots. With simple take-down construction, removable action parts, least parts of any .22—in the world and easiest to clean. A great vacation rifle. Ask any gun dealer.
